MEDIA ADVISORY
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE [June 4, 2018]

Rainbow Days and UT Dallas to partner for 23rd year of Kids' University summer camp, inspiring local homeless youth to aspire for higher education

DALLAS, Texas – Rainbow Days, Inc. and The University of Texas at Dallas will host the 23rd annual Kids' University summer camp for children living in local shelters. The first session will be held at the UT Dallas campus in Richardson from June 5-8, 2018, and the second session will be held June 18-21, 2018, from 10 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. each day. Through diverse classroom experiences such as science, technology, engineering, art, music, career options and more, Kids' University teaches children about goal-setting and aiming for higher education while improving their academic, social and developmental skills.

Over two sessions, Kids' University gives over 300 local homeless children and youth between the ages of 4 and 12 a positive, rewarding and educational summer camp experience. As they explore different career opportunities throughout the week, Kids' University attendees will be exposed to a collegiate environment and see firsthand the value of higher education in their lives. Children also benefit from caring adult staff mentors, social-emotional learning activities and participating in Rainbow Days' nationally recognized, evidence-based Curriculum-Based Support Group (CBSG®) Program.

Each week will conclude with a special graduation ceremony during which camp participants will wear colorful caps and gowns and receive diplomas from Dr. George W. Fair, UT Dallas Vice President of Diversity and Community Engagement. This unforgettable experience will allow each child to envision graduating from a higher learning institution in the future. The first session's graduation ceremony will take place Friday, June 8, and the second week's will be Thursday, June 21. Both ceremonies will begin at 1:30 p.m. in Hoblitzelle Hall on the UT Dallas campus.

Graduates of the first session will hear a commencement speech from James Munton, star of the James Wand Spy Magic Show, who will emphasize the importance of making good decisions and preventing drug and alcohol abuse. Graduates of the second session will hear from professional artist Tony Ballard, affiliated with The Artist Outreach. A participant in Rainbow Days programs as a child, Ballard will speak to this year's Kids' University graduates about his experiences and inspire them to work toward achieving their dreams.

During Kids' University, camp participants will attend interactive, educational courses throughout the week to experience the power of education as a means to unlock their futures. Sessions will include: educational outreach from the Commemorative Air Force Women Air Force Service Pilots (WASP); engineering with Frito Lay's Partners in Education; physics and geology from the Perot Museum; computer science and technology with Cranium Kids; math and algebra taught by UT Dallas students; nurturing and reading time with four-legged friends from Heart of Texas Dog Therapy; dance classes taught by UT Dallas dance faculty member Melissa Johnson; and a petting zoo. Throughout the week, participants will also continue to develop their coping skills, decision-making skills and social-emotional learning skills through the guidance of caring adult mentors who serve as group leaders and Rainbow Days' Curriculum-Based Support Group (CBSG®) facilitators. Kids' University's overarching purpose is to help inspire participants to stay in school, pursue college and consider a multitude of future career paths and possibilities.

Rainbow Days would like to recognize the generosity of Heart of Dallas and American Airlines, for their generous financial sponsorship of Kids' University. Additionally, Rainbow Days is grateful for the support of Mi Cocina, the Intrinsic Foundation and Raising Cane's, all of which will provide meals and snacks for the children throughout the week. Rainbow Days is also grateful for our partnership with the Dallas ISD Homeless Education Department, which provides bus transportation for the children to and from camp each day. Last, but not least, we are grateful for our longtime partner, The University of Texas at Dallas, which has been partnering with Rainbow Days for 23 years to make this camp possible.
